Job Title: ISR Decision Analyst

Company: NEXTGEN ADVISORS LLC

Location: National Capital Region (DC, MD, VA)

About Us:

NEXTGEN ADVISORS LLC is a service-disabled veteran-owned small business (SDVOSB) specializing in advanced data analytics and management consulting. Our mission is to deliver unparalleled excellence through insight, innovation, and impact to senior leaders (our clients) operating in the dynamic landscape of defense and intelligence consulting. We are deeply rooted in veteran ownership, operation, and leadership, with profound specialization in government consulting services.

Job Description:

At NEXTGEN ADVISORS LLC, we're seeking talented, highly motivated, and experienced ISR (Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance) Decision Analysts to join our dynamic team. As ISR Decision Analysts, you will play a pivotal role in providing critical insights, innovation, and impactful results to senior clients within the defense and intelligence enterprise.

Key Responsibilities:

Expertise and Specialization: Utilize your in-depth knowledge of operations research and systems analysis (ORSA) to assess, analyze, and improve our clients' operations.

Problem-Solving: Identify areas of improvement and craft bespoke solutions to optimize performance and operational efficiency.

Innovation: Embrace innovative methodologies, advanced analytics, and cutting-edge technologies to expedite mission success.

Analytical and Technical Skills: Apply your strong analytical and technical skills to meticulously analyze complex data and systems.

Communication: Effectively communicate technical findings and recommendations to clients, fostering clear understanding.

Collaboration and Teamwork: Collaborate with clients and colleagues as trusted advisors, working collaboratively to pinpoint areas of improvement.

Leadership: Exhibit leadership qualities to guide clients and colleagues effectively.

Ethical Values and Integrity: Uphold the highest standards of ethics and integrity in government consulting.

Attention to Detail: Ensure accurate and precise analysis by paying meticulous attention to detail.

Qualifications:

- Active Top Secret security clearance and SCI eligible (minimum)
- Hold a bachelor's or master's degree from an accredited U.S. institution in a related field – preferably in science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM).
- Demonstrated consulting or analytical expertise (6+ years with master's or 8+ years with bachelor's) in operations research, systems analysis, or a related discipline.
- Evidenced experience in the defense and intelligence sector is highly desirable.
- Strong problem-solving skills and an innovative mindset.
- Excellent communication and teamwork skills.
- Commitment to ethical values and integrity.
- Strong attention to detail.
- A dedicated and resilient work ethic.

How to Apply:

If you are a passionate and dedicated ISR Decision Analyst with a commitment to delivering excellence, innovation, and impact, we encourage you to apply. Please submit your resume, a cover letter detailing your experience and qualifications, and any relevant certifications to letschat@nextgenadvisors.llc.
